USE OF STATE PRISONS BY THE UNITED STATES .- The Government of the Union is separate from and independent of that of each and every State Government. It probably folloss from this arrangement that, in the per-formance of its duties and the exercise of its powers, the Government of the United States is strictly bound to provide all the appropriate and necessary agencies for the enforcement of the laws which Congress may be compelled to enact. This may be strictly true in theory, and indeed in the case of Prigg vs the State of Pennsylvania the Supreme Court of the United States so ruled. But although the States have the right to exclude the officers of the United States from the use of their court-houses, jails, and other prisons, yet it has not been done except recently in the cases arising out of the fugitive slave laws, and even in those cases it has been done only by a few States. There is such a manifest economy and propriety in the States' permitting the use of their prisons and thus facilitating the administration of justice by the General Government, that, at a very early day after the adoption of the Federal Constitution, most of the States passed laws giving to the United States the use of their prisons. Thus, as early as the year 1790, the Legislature of Massachusetts provided by law that "the keepers of the several jails of the Commonwealth shall, under the like penalties as by law are provided for the custody and safekeeping of the prisoners thereof, take custody of, and safely keep, all prisoners committed under the authority of the United States, until they shall be discharged by due course of the laws thereof." Such moneys as were paid for meeting the charges of such custody were mad ayable to the county treasurers for the use of their respective counties. This law, so obviously proper and advantageous to the State and to the United States has been substantially in force to the present time. But in the States of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Michigan the use of the State prisons has been by recent enactments forbid to the United States authorities, in enforcing the provisions of the fugitive slave law. There is no inhibition in these State laws against the use of the prisons in the cases of mail robberies, piracies, or other crimes committed in violation of the U. S. laws. The conduct of these States in thus excluding the U.S. Government from the use o. their prisons in the case of fugitive slaves alone is, as it was doubtless designed to be, very offensive and insulting to the people of the South, and will unquestionably lead to retaliatory legislation on the part of the Southern States. It will not excuse those States from blame, to say that they have the legal right to deny the use of their prisons or their courts to the United States: for the manner in which they have used the power shows that it was against slavery and slave property that the laws were directed, and not against the United States. No good, but much harm, will be the result of a continuance of such legislation, and we hope to see the obnoxious acts re-pealed and the practice of passing such laws abandoned.

WATER WORKS AT DETROIT .- We have on our table the Report of the Water Commissioners to the Common Council of the city of Detroit for the year ending December 31, 1854. From this report we gather that there has been expended on the works up to the first of the year $495,463; 181 fire-plugs have been set up and connected with the pipes, and 131 miles of iron pipes have been laid, and during the year there has been distributed 314,392,655 imperial gallons of water, which is an increase over that of the previous year of about 20 per cent. The quantity of water per day to each habitant was 213 gallons, and the quantity of wood consumed in the year was 1,122 cords, costing $2,129. The superintendent estimates twelve bushels of coal as equal to one cord of such wood as he used.

The superintendent was sent to visit and inspect the water-works of the different cities, and we give from his report the cost of these works as he states them:

PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW IN NEW YORK. The press and the people of the city of New York are having a nice and exciting time about the liquor law that will soon go into effect there. The press stood by quite quiescently, and permitted the Maine law to pass the Legislature without opposition. They were each and all afraid to attack it lest it might lose them some patronage. But now, when the law is about going into effect, quite a number of the metro politan press are violent in their opposition to it. The Tritune preserves its consistency and favors the execution of the law as it advocated its passage.

If the law can be executed in New York it can be anywhere, for there it will have to encounter the opposition of a greater cumulative power of combined talent, shrewd cupidity, and money influence than it will have to meet in any other city of the United States. A large sum of money has been already raised to fee able lawyers, with a view of testing the constitutionality of the law, and still greater sums will be forthcoming if required. Opinions, both adverse and favorable to the law, have been obtained from eminent lawyers and presiding judges; and, if these latter gentlemen continue the practice of deciding on the law before a case arises under it, when such a case shall occur, there will be no judges left uncommitted before whom an impartial trial can be had. We hold the practice of judges' giving in advance their construction of laws, to be highly improper and worthy of general condemnation.

The latest one of these extra official opinions is that of Judge Edmonds, the spiritualist, who has given an opinion affirming the constitutionality of the New York liquor law. The Mirror, a paper that is ferociously opposed to the grogstopping law, notices Judge Edmonds and his

Judge Edmonds, from the spiritual world, "follows suit." He, too, has an opinion on the new liquor law, and his opinion has this advantage over all its predecessors—it is the longest.

The learned judge approves of the law in all its detail; it is a perfect statute; it lacks nothing; and the exceptional clause of the first section covers its own ground and no more. Imported liquors are lawful merchandise while in the hands of the importer, and in their original packages, but no longer.

The professional reasoning of Judge Edmonds and others on this point is exquisite. It would not be competent for the Legislature to prohibit the importer from selling his merchandise, because such prohibition would prevent importation, and that would interfere with the receipts of the Tressury for duties. of the Treasury for duties. But the same Legislature may impose its prohibition on the sale of the same merchandise the moment it has left the hands of the importer. In our simple judgment, a man need not be a lawyer nor a judge nor a "medium" from the land of spirits to perceive the absurdity of this position, for it is obvious to plain common sense that if the parties who would purchase from the importer are prohibited from selling the commodity so to be purchased they must decline to purchase. In other words, to prohibit the purchaser from selling is to prevent the importer from selling, for the importer's customers are themselves seller.

STEAM FIRE ENGINE DELUGE .- This machine was submitted to another trial yesterday. It performed to the satisfaction or everybody. Steam was raised in seven minutes from the time it arrived on the ground. In forty-seven minu es it pumped 676 barrels of water (30 gallons per barrel) out of the cistern at the intersection os Jefferson and Ninth streets. This is equal to 827 barrels or 24,810 gallons per hour, and the city engineer is of opinion that it can pump 900 barrels per hour.

It was afterwards taken to a cistern on Main street and threw a horizontal stream of 204 feet 4 inches from 11 inch nozzle. The average weight of steam was 50 lbs. The machinery worked finely, and it was drawn by the horses with great ease.

Here is a sweet dream of heaven from one whose every dream is heavenly:

[For the Louisville Bulletin.1

A DREAM. I've had a happy dream, Sallie, A sweet and happy dream, 'Twas brighter than the dawn's first smile Or sunlight on the stream My spirit trembles yet with joy, Although the dream has fied, And heavenly beauty seems to be About my pathway shed.

Methought a radiant me senger From Eden's bowers had come, To break this easket's trembling bands And bear the jewel home—
And when to free the fettered bird The prison bars he drew. The severing of fond earth-ties was The only pain I knew.

Awhile on trembling, gladsome wing My happy spirit hung
To which it late had clung: I saw thee bending o'er my brow,
Thy heart with anguish riven,
And longed to clasp thee in my arms,
And bear thee off to heaven.

Away on pinion light and free
My angel sped his way,
Up to the clime of endless light— Of bright, unclouded day Away, away, on tireless wing Until there gleamed afar But midway in our shining path Our own loved evening star.

We paused awhile, for still we loved Its gentle, radiant light,
And plumed our wings in eestasy
Amid its bowers so bright—
We knew no lapse of time, but when I gazed on earth, once dear, Another angel's beaming form On rapid wing drew near.

I looked with wonder and delight Upon the stranger fair, Vhose graceful pinion seemed to float In its own native air; Some sainted spirit is released For realms of bliss divine," My angel said as it drew near And, dear one, it was thine.

What rapture, oh what rapture then To have thee with me there! We spread our wings and took our flight Up through the ambient air: We loved our angel, him whose wing Te guide us had been given, And joyous did his errand seem To lead the way to heaven.

On, on through cloudless realms of space We floated high and free,
While music, from the rolling spheres,
Filled the immensity—
On, on, till gleaming on our sight Appeared a dazzling one The fairest of the Pleiad train, Resplendent Aleyone.

Circling around their sister fair On rapid wheels of time, Those guardian planets joyously Kept up their march sublime Celestial music floated round
And heavenly odors filled
The balmy air, while love divine Our raptured spirits thrilled.

This was our home—our angel guide Folded his glittering wing, He gave us jeweled harps of gold And bade us touch and sing; While flutt'ring round, in holy joy, Mother and sister dear, Those we had loved so much on earth, To welcome us drew near.

Bliss, rapturous bliss, our Heaven was gained. Our Father's home was ours,
'Twas ours to rove by waters bright
And pluck unfading flowers;
With trembling hands we tuned our harps And rapturous sweetness broke From every string, and with the thrill Of music I awoke.

KENTUCKY MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.-We observe from the circulars just issued that the coming exhibition will be opened on September 25th. Already active preparations are being made for it, and we learn from the exhibition vious one. At no time since the organization of the Institute have all classes of mechanics shown so much interest in its successs. The great advantages to all manufacturing interests arising from such exhibitions are beginning to be properly appreciated. As an advertising medium they cannot be excelled, and for the city and State and showing to the world what we are doing and can do, we believe it the duty bonds of the Big Sandy Railroad was read and of every mechanic and manufacturer, large or small, to be represented at the coming exhibi-

Its exhibitions have been of a very high character, and its library has more than ten times as many readers as any library has ever had in this city before. Among these are about one street improvements were ordered in both hundred and seventy-three minors and about fifty lady subscribers.

In connection with this we call attention to the card of the actuary in another column. The advantages it presents for a few dollars are a hundred-fold the sum.

Frederick Prime, Esq., gave his gardener a check for about $170, upon the Union Bank (which is located in Wall street), and the gardener sent his wife down to draw it. On her way down, she had occasion to pass a crowd in front of an auction house, and was there relieved of her purse containing the check. A little girl who was with her saw the pickpocket with the purse, and acquainted her with the fact, but not in time to stop the rogue. The woman, with rare presence of mind, ran immediately to the Bank and stopped payment of the check. A few minutes stopped payment of the check. A few minutes after she left the bank, the pickpocket arrived, and attempted to draw the money. ALLBOED CONSPIRACY TO GET A HUSBAND. It has always been considered the duty of the sterner sex to woo, win, and pop the question to the "fairest portion of creation," except when leap-year gives an implied license to women to win for themselves a husband and a home. We like the wooding to be deeped to like the wooing to be done by the masculine gender, and we must admit that our sense of propriety was somewhat shocked on Saturday at hearing of a case before Alderman Hibbard, in which it was clearly proven that a beautiful young female not only "popped the question," but endeavored to supplant a wife in the affections of her husband.

The facts of the case are as follows: It is alleged that a young man, daguerreotypist, recently traveled through Pennsylvania, with his mother and two sisters, the eldest sister about twenty years of age and quite beautiful, and the youngest about nine years. Their way led to a public-house in a small village in Jefferson co., Pa., kept by a very worthy gentleman, the hus-band of a fine-looking woman, and the father of an interesting little daughter. A few days after their arrival, the wits of the travelers were set to work, it is alleged, to appropriate the snug quarters to themselves, and, during several days' absence of the landlord from his home, the mother of the daguerreotypist, it is alleged, by some means or other, induced the wife of the landlord to elope with her son. The guilty party, having with them the child of the faithless wife, hied to New York, and subsequently came on to this city.

The landlord, on his return home, was greatly alarmed and uneasy at the absence of his wife, the alleged conspirators having told him that she had merely taken a ride with the young man. In the mean time every effort was made by the mother and daughter to induce the forsaken husband to forget his wife, and cling to the "girl left behind her," but he refused their entreaties, though, at the same time, he acknowledged that he only wanted his child, and that the mother should never be clasped to his bosom again. The mother and daughter, finding their schemes unprosperous, made tracks for this city, and, on their arrival, sought out the runaways, and stopped at the same hotel with them. The disconsolate husband also came on, and, after diligent search, discovered their whereabouts.

The wife, hearing of the arrival of her hus-band, removed, with her daughter, to another hotel, and thus saved herself from the arrest at the time the others were taken in charge. was, however, discovered on Saturday, and ta-ken to the alderman's office, and she was about to be committed to prison, when the husband requested the officer to take her to the hotel, and ee that she was kept in close confinement. This was done, and the husband slept in an ad-joining room with the officer, who used his best exertions to obtain the wife's forgiveness. He at last relented, and the same day returned to his home with her who had caused him such anguish and disquietude.

The other parties were held to bail for their appearance whenever wanted, the landlord of the house at which they are now residing giving security for them, notwithstanding their in-debtedness to him is quite a large amount. The whole case, according to the allegations, exhibits one of the coolest efforts to obtain a good home that we have ever seen on record; and also shows that this traveling family are as devoid of feeling as they are of principle.

WHO DESIGNED THE FLOATING BATTERIES? Who DESIGNED THE FLOATING BATTERIES?
One of these enormous washing tubs is to be seen at Woolwich. Ahead, astern, or broadside on, all is a mass of deformity Neither rudder or hawse holes are visible. Masts, yards, and funnel denote that it is a ship, or it might easily be mistaken for a dummy, pierced with portholes for windows. But, putting aside the eccentric exterior of the craft, there are in them same most serious defects. These "theiring." centric exterior of the crart, there are in them some most serious defects. These "things," without a gun, shot, or pound of powder on board, draw eight feet and their port sills are now only five feet from the water's edge. Before they are armed, manned, provisioned, and stored, weights will have to be put on board which will probably immerse them three feet more. Thus the port-holes will be only two feet out of water! The fighting deck has been so carefully covered with bomb proof protection that not an aperture has been left sufficiently judge of Desha. Immediately upon his release, he decamped to "parts unknown." He was doubtless guilty of the crime alleged against him. His escape from the hands of justice is deeply to be regretted.

The latence with bomb proof protection that not an aperture has been left sufficiently large to admit a shell; the consequence there is no way for smoke to escape, except at the port-holes.

The Jamestown, Captain Crabbe, having been originally assigned as the flag-ship of the African squadron, is designed, only temporally, to form a part of the home squadron, and is probably now on her way to Key West, after touch ing at Havana, she will await your instructions.

The hatchway, which would have admitted a shell, would have let off the smoke; so, to avoid being killed by a destructive missile, the crew must all be suffocated! After the first broadside, the crew will be unable to see the object of their engagement; and after the third round strangulation must ensue. The confined vapor arising from their own guns will be all sufficient. To steer or propel such an unwieldy conglomeration of wood and iron is out of the question. They will go where they please, and how they please—never uncommonly fast without being Yet five of these precious instruments of torture, which will not cost less than half a million, are built and paid for by honest good natured John Bull.—United Service Gazette.

The ship John Land had arrived from Tahiti with a number of her crew in irons, for mutiny She was immediately libelled by the whaler D M. Hall for salvage. An examination on the charge of mutiny was gone into in the U. Caught Again .- Thomas Davis alias James Caught Again.—Thomas Davis alias James Mayberry, a prisoner in the penitentiary under conviction for forgery, and who has been, and still pretended to be very sick, scaled the walls on Thursday night last and escaped; but on Tuesday he was re-arrested 18 miles this side of Louisville, and is again safe in his old quarters with the prospect of two years addition to his present term.—Com?lth.

INSTRUCTIONS TO COMMODORE McCAULEY. The Union publishes the following:

UNITED STATES NAVY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, April 10, 1855.

SIR: The department has determined to assign

Sir: The department has determined to assign you to a special duty, and place you temporarily in command of the home squadron.

Reposing confidence in your prudence, experience, and patriotism, I have selected you for the discharge of certain duties, always delicate and responsible, the proper execution of which may involve questions of national honor and Recent events in Cuba, and on the high seas in the vicinity of that Island, are of a character calculated not merely to attract attention and excite the solicitue of this Government, but to call for constant vigilance on your part, in order that the rights of our countrymen and the interest of our commerce may be neither wantonly as-sailed nor carelessly disregarded. It is hardly necessary that I should undertake to recite with particularity all the circumstances which are worthy of your consideration, but I deem it pro-per to call your attention to the conduct of the commander of the Spanish frigate Ferrolana in firing at the United States mail steamer El Dorado, and subjecting that vessel to delay, visitation, and search about eight miles from Cape San Antonio—an occurrence which, if approved by the Spanish authorities, is likely to disturb the friendly relations between the two Governments, and a course of proceeding which, if persisted in, cannot but provoke collision.

I need not remind you, Commodore, that the right of visitation or search of our vessels on the high seas is one the existence of which the United States have steadily refused to recognise and the exercise of which they will with equal firmness ever refuse to tolerate.

The President instructs me to say to you that if any officer in command of a ship-of-war be present when an outrage of the character hererightfully bearing our flag, he will promptly in-terpose, relieve the arrested American ship, pre-vent the exercise of the assumed right of visitation or search, and repel the interference by force. The President is not unmindful of the present disturbed condition of Cuba. But, whatever weight may be attached to these con-siderations, the excited apprehensions of the authorities of that Island, arising, it is believ-ed, out of the condition of its internal affairs, and not from any movement in this country in violation of our neutrality laws, can work no suspension of national law, nor reconcile submission to the violation of any right resulting from the law of nations or treaty stipulations. The United States seek no collision with Spain. The officers of our navy are desired and expected scrupulously to observe the law of nations and uniformly to extend all courtesy and respect to the flags of other powers. But these rules do not require consent for a moment to the deliberate violation of principles held sacred by the United States, and without the observance of which peace, however decirable between the of which peace, however desirable, cannot be maintained.

The conduct of the authorities of Cuba in overhauling and searching our vessels cannot rest on the ground of territorial jurisdiction, and this government denies the existence of any state of facts to warrant the exercise of belligerent rights. Your instructions are confined to cases arising on thn high seas, because, as at present advised, the offensive acts which have been committed are of that character. offensive acts, however, undoubtedly might oc-cur within the proper territorial inrisdiction of Cuba, to which this government could not and would not submit for a moment. Should such a case arise, you will immediately report the facts to this department, and await further in structions, unless your propert interprecition. structions, unless your prompt interposition should become necessary for the preservation of the lives and property of the citizens of the United States. Accompanying this dispatch you will receive a copy of the recent letter of Mr. Marcy, Sec-retary of State, to Mr. Cueto, the Spanish minister at Washington, to which your attention is specially invited, as setting forth with distinctness and force the views entertained by the President on this subject.

The vessels constituting the home squadron, under your command, for the present, are the San Jacinto, Captain Stribling; the Jamestown, Captain Crabbe; the Falmouth, Commander Shaw; the Princeton, Commander Eagle, and the Fulton, Lieutenant Commanding Mitchell; to which other vessels will be added at the earliest practical moment. liest practical moment.

The Jamestown, Captain Crabbe, having been originally assigned as the flag-ship of the African squadron, is designed, only temporally, to ing at Havana, she will await your instructions. I enclose you a copy of my instructions to Capt Crabbe.

The department desires you to proceed immediately to Philadelphia, where the steam-firg ate is now lying, and designed as the flag-ship of the home squadron, and, after hoisting your broad pendant on board of that vessel, you will direct your course first to Havana, at which place you will seek an interview with our acting consul, procure from him all the information bearing upon the duties of the home squadron and then regulate your cruising, and the move ments of the ships under your command, with a view to the protection of the rights and interests of your country.

I deem it unnecessary, Commodore, to multiply suggestions to one of your experience and ex-celleut judgment, or to enlarge upon the importance of doing everything in your power to pre-serve discipline and to promote a cheerful and contented spirit among the officers and men under your command.

You will avail yourself of every opportunity to keep the department advised of your move-ments and the condition of affairs within the limits of your station.

Wishing you an agreeable and successful

Wishing you an agreeable and successful cruise, I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, J. C. DOBBIN, Secretary of the Navy.

LATEST NEWS.

The river is rising at the rate of one inch per hour, with four feet two inches water

We are indebted to the officers of the Baltimore for late St. Louis papers and copies of her manifest and memorandum.

We are requested to state that the adjournment of the county court till October next was contrary to the wishes of most of the lawyers who have cases in the court. We are not informed what were the wishes upon the subject of the clients, but we suspect that at least one-half of them, the debtor portion, rather approve of the course of the estimable judge.

THE NEW ORGAN.—The new organ for Christ Church was received a few days ago by the steamer Eclipse. It is said to be a splendid instrument and a friend has promised us a description of it.

A concert, the proceeds to be devoted toward its purchase, will be given in about two weeks.

The steamer Niagara passed Evansville last night and will be here this evening. She will leave for New Orleans to-morrow evening.

The funeral of Ex-Governor James T Morehead will take place at Frankfort on Wednesday next. The Frankfort Railroad Co. will take passengers who wish to participate in the ceremonies at $2 50 for going and re-

Last Monday (county court) presented the animated and busy scenes of former days. The town was crowded with people from our own county and from other parts of the State. The sales of the stock were very heavy, and at fair rates. It is estimated that there were some two tnousand head of cattle brought upon the public square, between three and four hundred mules. and a large number of horses. The auctioneers (and there were some eight or ten of them) were kept busy until a late hour in the evening. The reader will find in another column the reports of three auctioneers .- Paris Citizen.

The gross amount realized for the sales by the three auctioneers referred to was $39.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Courier writes:

Mr. McLane has come home, partly because he was tired of foreign service, and partly because he despaired of effecting any thing for the public service or his own reputation in the Chinese mission. There is no expectation that he will return, and the place is for competition.

ILLINOIS.—The returns from Illinois leave no doubt of the election of Judge Breese, as judge of the St. Clair circuit, by a majority of several thousand votes.

The Abolitionists, after all, voted for Leland in opposition to Judge Caton, for Supreme Judge. Leland had positively declined the race; but as he was known to be opposed to the execution of the fugitive slave law, and a "higher law" man in almost everything, the Abolitionists determined to use his name anyhow. They have shown their strength by so doing. Judge Caton has been elected by a large majority.

The returns in the telegraph column look as if the prohibitory liquor law had been defeated in Illinois. The "rural districts" may, however, change the result .- St. Louis Rep.

Elizacokely vs. Martin Francy, peace warrant. Discharged, prosecutrix not appearing.

J. H. Marsh, suspected from. He was arrested by Office Jerome Bonaparte Grey, who suspected him of being a man named Ellis, charged with stealing $2,590 in New Orleans. The description of Ellis suited Marsh to a T. except that Ellis was 5 feet 6 inches, and Marsh was only 5 inches taller. Thus Mr. Grey came within 5 inches of arresting the right man. Marsh was discharged.

Death from a Kick-Brutal Conduct .quest was held by Coronor Beach on the body of Mary Vansel, a German woman, residing near the cemetery. It appears that the woman had been prematurely confined, and that it was caused by a kick in the abdomen received from a negro, who had attempted to violate the woman's person, after having offered her money. The kick caused an inflammation which finally ended in death. It is thought that with proper care the women might have recovered. The negro has not yet been arrested, and his name is not known .- Chicago Democrat.

Man Shot .- Between the hours of 7 and o'clock last evening, a man by the name of Hedges was shot at the Wm. Tell House, on Court street. The act was committed by a gunsmith named Jas. Evans, from Louisville, who was intoxicated at the time, but had been tially instigated to shoot Hedges by a third ty. The shooting was done with a pistol the ball entering the back part of the neck. The wound is not dangerous. Evans was arrested.

Boston, June 6. Last night, as the mail trail from New York via New Haven was nearing the city of cester, the engineer suddenly discovered an ob stacle on the track. It appears that the rails had been pryed up and 5 or 6 large stones had been placed underneath. By the force of the collision the whole train was thrown off the track. The engine was thrown into a ditch; the baggage was thrown completely over and broken up. Six persons in the cars were considerably bruised, but fortunately escaped without very serious injury. The fore part of the passenger cars was broken, and the trucks of two passenger cars were torn off, but all the passengers escaped without serious damage; a few only received trifling cuts.

They arrived at 4½ o'clock this morning.

This attempt to destroy the passenger train is supposed to be the work of robbers, who hoped in the confusion to reby the few received of the confusion to reby the serious confusion. in the confusion to rob it of a large amour specie on board, in charge of Adams & Co.'s messenger. This idea is strengthened from the fact that an engine which was waiting at the Forester depot was tampered with in order to prevent its going to the aid of the disabled train. Though the specie was much scattered, it was all recovered, and has been safely delivered. The specie amounted to half a million, and went out to-day by the English steamer.

The America sails at noon with 200 passengers for Liverpool and 17 for Halifax and $1,-120,427 in specie.

PORTLAND, June 6. Neal Dow has been acquitted on the liquor charge. THE PORTLAND RIOT .- The extraordinary excitement growing out of the proceeding of the Mayor of Portland, in purchasing liquor for the city agency, under the new law, has been al-shal and the police to the fact that a large quantity of spirituous liquors had been purchased in New York and brought here for sale, and suggested to them the duty of seizing them. These liquors, $1,600 worth, Mr. Neal Dow had stated to one of the Aldermen he had bought on his own individual responsibility, and had ordered them to be brought here and stored in the city.

This being apparently in direct violation of law, making Mr. Dow liable for the penalty, on conviction, of imprisonment for thirty days, and rendering the liquors subject to seizure and destruction, a complaint was accordingly made to the Police Court, and Judge Carter issued his warrant for the seizure of the liquors; but whether for the arrest of Mr. Dow we have not learned. Judge Carter, however, instead of giving his warrant to an officer who was ready to make immediate service, put it in the hands of Deputy Marshal Ring, who, for some canse, immediately disappeared and could not be found. Meantime the board of aldermen was suddenly summoned to meet for the purpose, it was alleged, of effecting a transfer of the liquors to the city, for its agency, which was established on last Thursday night, by the casting vote of Mr. Dow, though the liquors were purchased some weeks since. After the aldermen had been together a while, Deputy Ring appeared and seized the liquors upon the warrant.

Quite a little crowd stood about the door where the liquors were stored, and in the vicinity during the remainder of the afternoon, but perfect quiet and apparent good nature was observed. Soon after 7 o'clock a crowd began to collect about the deposit of the liquors in the City Hall building, and gradually increased until a little after 9 o'clock, when a cry of fire was raised, as we understand, by Mr. Dow's order, and the bells rong with a view of diverting the crowd from the spot. It had, however, a con-trary effect, and greatly increased it for a time, as the engine companies were brought by the bells from both extremes of the city to the centre in Market Square, where the crowd was assembled. They however, soon withdrew, and the crowd began to diminish.

Occasionally during the evening, stones and brickbats were thrown against the door of the liquor store, breaking the sashes and otherwise injuring the door. This was done, so far as we

The whole affair was the merest boys play done in the most apparent good nature, and with the least possible excitement. Indeed, nearly the whole crowd seemed to be there without other purpose than curiosity to see what might be done, and those who threw the missiles were without leaders or apparent power to do harm.

We are of the opinion that an efficient police officer—with a dozen good men—could have easily dispersed the crowd any time prior to half-past nine o'clock. Soon after 10 o'clock the crowd had protectible dispinished and the crowd had materially diminished, and seemed rapidly dispersing, when Mr. Dow, acseemed rapidly dispersing, when Mr. Dow, accompanied by Capt. Green, and a part of the Light Guard, appeared upon the sidewalk on the north side of the City Hall. The crowd were warned to disperse. His appearance, sword in hand, with soldiers, at once changed the temper of the multitude. They rallied around them and gave groans and hisses prior to the proclamation to disperse. clamation to disperse.

Mr. Dow then gave the order, "first section fire." The order was not obeyed, and the crowd then threw missiles. A part of the company started to escort Mr. Dow toward Middle street, and the remainder immediately returned to their Armory in the third story of the City Hall building. At the time Mr. Dow gave the order to fire (Captain Green refused to give it, as we understand, on the ground that he did not think the circumstances authorized it), the company were standing directly opposite the en-trance to the hall of the Mechanics' Association in Clapp's block, and their fire would have taken effect, if at all, upon the people on the sidewalk, a part of whom were mechanics just coming from their hall, and who were entirely unconscious that any such proceedings were called for or contemplated.

After Captain Green's company had retired, the brickbats flew thicker and stronger, and the who were aiding the dep who had seized the liquors to guard them, commenced firing pistols charged only with pow-der. A sort of sham-fight was thus kept up between the crowd, which had now become more determined in its character, and the police, un-til about 11 o'clock, when Mr. Dow, with a portion of the Rifle Guards, under Capt. Chas. W. Roberts, descended from the Light Guards Armory, and with the muskets of the Light Guards to the south side of the City Hall. The doors of the liquor store were then thrown open and the firing commenced, by Mr. Dow's order, through the store upon the crowd in the street upon the other side of the building.

EVENING BULLETIN, ceived a severe bayonet wound on the hip, while trying to get out of the way as fast as he could. The Argus, after giving the above as a statement of the facts in the case, comments with severity upon the course of Mr. Dow in the execution of the liquor law, which it alleges, has excited much hostile feeling against him. It give below the particulars of the affair, as contained in the Portland Argus:

It will be remembered that on Saturday morning we called the attention of the city marshal and the police to the fact that a love one.
